

THE MADELEINE WINS ROSE AWARD

Once again, The Madeleine rose garden has received top honors from The Portland Rose Festival.

As far back as 2014, our Centennial Memorial Rose Garden has been lauded by the Royal Rosarians at their annual judging, and 2021 is no different.

This year, we won First Place in the Commercial/Public Agency division. On Monday, Madeleine Facilities Manager Terry Silva received the award in the Rose Garden ceremony.

Thank you to Terry and the several volunteers who help keep our garden beautiful!

As we enter into summer, we are invited to relax and renew. PETER'S PENCE COLLECTION THIS WEEKEND

The Peter's Pence collection is a gesture of solidarity through which every member of the faithful can participate in the activity of the Pope as Pastor of the universal Church. "The faithful's offerings to the Holy Father through the Peter's Pence Collection are destined to Church needs, to humanitarian initiatives and social promotion projects, as well as to the support of the Holy See."

To donate, use an envelope from the collection table or visit our online giving page at www.themadeleine.edu/parishgiving. Be sure to include "Peter's Pence" in the Second Collection description box.

In today's Gospel we see how in faith, Jarius asked Jesus to heal his daughter and how Jesus then answered his prayer. In prayer we also come to know that we are loved by God, and in that trust we ask for healing for ourselves, our loved ones and all those who are suffering. This week, please join the Society of St. Vincent de Paul in praying for the healing of all those who are ill and especially those who have no one to pray for them.

JOIN OUR NEW CHIME CHOIR

Do you love music? Consider joining our new “Chime Choir” at The Madeleine.

Hand chimes are...

- ▶ Accessible to play. Chimes are set up like a musical keyboard. A basic knowledge in musical rhythm or note reading is helpful, but not required.
- ▶ A safe alternative to singing during COVID. “Chimers” are assigned one or two individual chimes, which are not shared with one another. Because of this, it is easy to be socially distanced. Masks are mandatory.

- ▶ A great family music ministry—which will bring much joy and beauty to our liturgies!

For more information on rehearsals and liturgies, please contact Maria Manzo, Director of Music at mmanzo@themadeleine.edu

CHRIST’S HEALING TOUCH

This week we are reminded of the healing power of Christ’s touch. Mark’s gospel talks of the physical healings of two women—one, the daughter of a synagogue official, Jairus, who is near death, and the other, an unnamed woman “afflicted with hemorrhages for twelve years.” When all earthly powers had been exhausted, both the daughter of Jairus and the unnamed woman turned to Jesus for healing. By their great faith, Christ’s very touch and presence healed them beyond anything humanly possible.

For nearly 40 years, my mother was in the travel industry—organizing pilgrimages to holy sites around the world. To my mother these pilgrimages were not just her business—they became a powerful healing ministry. Throughout the years I witnessed countless pilgrims seeking physical healings for their suffering. Still others were seeking spiritual healing for themselves or their loved ones—or emotional healing from alcoholism, divorce, abuse and other afflictions. Knowing everyone’s story, my mom was determined to take care of every detail so that all her pilgrims were free to pray and experience the healing power of Christ as they traveled to these holy sites. Her mantra was, “this is not a tour, this is a pilgrimage,” and she meant it! It was inspirational for me to encounter first-hand the amazing faith of these pilgrims and the many healing “miracles” that transpired over the years. Although not all pilgrims were “cured,” all were “healed” in some way—and their lives were forever changed. Since her retirement from travel at age 90, with that same zeal my mom has found another “healing” ministry—gifting special crucifixes to those she feels might benefit from them. These crucifixes are made in Italy, blessed in Medjugorje (Bosnia-Herzegovina), and shipped from Ireland. I often tell her that although she can no longer take pilgrims around the world, with these crucifixes she is now able to bring these holy places to the pilgrims instead. It is an amazing witness when almost daily she hears from someone who has experienced some kind of spiritual, emotional or even physical “healing” that they attribute to receiving one of these crucifixes.

One of my favorite gospel songs is “He Touched Me,” composed by legendary Gospel musician, Bill Gaither in 1963. Gaither wrote the song late one night, inspired by playing a revival with guest speaker Dr. Dale Oldham, in which he spoke of the healing touch of Jesus as referenced in this week’s Gospel. Gaither had this to say when asked about songwriting: Often they have the idea that we sit down at the piano a certain time each week and stay there until we have produced a song. This is far from what happens. He goes on to say.... Songs are more like whispered answers to the questions of the heart, or manna provided to supply need. We seem to have very little to do with how often or at what time a song is written. When it is there, we simply stop everything and record it on paper... [I]f it is ignored, it slips away like a vapor and is never recalled.

Whether it is a blessed crucifix, a beautiful Gospel song, or a kind and compassionate heart, as Christians we are the conduit—the healing touch of Christ in today’s world. And so it goes... Something happened and now I know He touched me and made me whole

In Memoriam

THE MADELEINE FAMILY REMEMBERS

DONALD KAYSER

A Funeral Mass was celebrated for Donald Kayser on Saturday, June 26, at The Madeleine.

Don's life began on the south side of Chicago, the son of Catherine Spillane and Harold, whose families immigrated from Ireland and Germany. With only a ninth grade education, Don's father worked his way up the ranks of GE as an electrician so he could provide that opportunity for his two boys, Don and Bill. Demonstrating a strong inclination for math and engineering, Don earned a spot in the prestigious Fournier Institute, a school that accepted high school students their junior year and bestowed a BS in Electrical Engineering after a six year program. He earned an MBA with distinction from Harvard, paid for by the GI Bill. When graduation came he spurned the lucrative opportunities in large companies and accepted an offer to work for a lumber company in the small town of Crossett, Arkansas but only, as he explained later, if his sweetheart Mary Collette would accompany him there as his wife. They were married in 1956 and started a family three years later.

In his career, Don had many great accomplishments, serving as Chief Financial Officer of several companies, including Morrison Knudsen, and retiring as the CEO of Louisiana Pacific Corporation in Portland, Oregon, in 1996. In work he was steady, determined and thorough, a man people loved to work for who brought out the best in those around him. His motto, repeated throughout his life, was "there's no limit to the amount of good one person can do if that person is not concerned with who takes the credit." He managed with humility, treating those who worked for him with dignity and respect. He preferred to stay out of the spotlight, focus on the objective, put in place the best people to do the job, step aside and let them function on their own.

It was a formula that enabled his many accomplishments, from managing a billion dollar pension fund and structuring complex corporate mergers to helping companies through potentially crippling financial and legal crises.

Still, beneath the serious and deliberate demeanor, there was a warm, loving husband whose ideal evening was a dry martini followed by quiet dinner with Mary, a proud father who in his final words to his children expressed his greatest achievement in life, raising six happy and successful children whom he loved dearly and, in turn, loved him as much as any children could ever love a father.

Please pray for Donald, his family and all the faithfully departed from The Madeleine
