GREEN TIPS FOR A MORE SUSTAINABLE LIFESTYLE

Do you have a family farmer yet? The issue is about buying most of your vegetables directly from a local farmer. Imagine having baskets full of organic vegetables (delicious, fresh and pesticide-free) that could be conveniently dropped off close to your home. Thanks to Community Supported Agriculture (CSA), there is most likely an outlet in your area (even your church could become one!) which would provide you with fresh fruits and vegetables, even meat, on a weekly basis. Registration usually takes place in February and March, so look for “Community Supported Agriculture” in your area.

Under the tutelage of Therese Fenzl and Ann Hart, members of The Madeleine School's CLEAN Club spend some of their after-school time last week planting flower bulbs on The Madeleine campus.

Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

GOD CALLS US in many ordinary and sometimes extraordinary ways. Today we hear of three people who were called: Isaiah, Simon Peter, and Paul. Each situation was different, but what they had in common was feeling inadequate to the call. We, too, are recipients of God's mercy. We may feel inadequate, but we are all worthy in God's merciful eyes.

THE MADELEINE DISCONTINUES STYROFOAM AND POLYSTYRENE COLLECTION

Regrettably, The Madeleine is immediately discontinuing the collection of Styrofoam and Polystyrene materials, and here's why.

According to a 2020 independent investigation by the Global Alliance for Incinerator Alternatives (GAIA), Agilyx, Oregon's sole recycler of Styrofoam and Polystyrene (endorsed and promoted by Metro and the State of Oregon), is cited for significant violations involving improper handling of these materials. In GAIA's report, "All Talk and No Recycling: An Investigation of the U.S. 'Chemical Recycling' Industry" (www.bit.ly/TMP-styrofoam), companies such as Agilyx use a Plastic-to-Fuel (PTF) chemical process in their recycling of these highly toxic materials. PTF reportedly adds to the "cumulative burden of toxic exposures on environmental justice communities." One such community is St. James Parish, Louisiana, home to a petrochemical industrialized zone known as "Cancer Alley," and where 41.6% people of color and low-income live. GAIA's report reveals Agilyx is transporting materials we have collected to St. James Parish, Louisiana.

GAIA concludes that PTF "is not a form of recycling because it does not replace virgin plastic, does not contribute to a circular economy in plastic, and does not avoid the environmental harms of plastic production. ... PTF might be better described as a plastic to hazardous waste operation. The only thing PTF recycles is toxic chemicals"

(P. 14). Read the full report for additional findings.

Our Call to Action

What actions can we immediately take to protect our environment from this toxic waste and show solidarity with our brothers and sisters residing in Cancer Alley? Here are some suggestions:

- ▶ Contact Metro, DEQ, EPA, and/or your state representative(s) and ask them to review the GAIA report and respond to why Oregon is listed as having one of the "Top 100 Polluting Chemical Manufacturing Facilities in the U. S."
- ▶ Read the GAIA report in its entirety, discuss it with others, and continue to actively learn about issues affecting our environment. Question, question, question.
- ▶ Attend the Catholic Climate Covenant webinar on April 11, 2022, 4:30 pm with keynote speaker, Sharon Lavigne. Ms. Lavigne is a passionate Catholic and founder of RISE St. James, a faith-based environmental justice organization located in St. James Parish, Louisiana. Visit www.bit.ly/TMP-20020206 to register.
- ▶ Avoid Styrofoam packaging whenever possible. If you cannot avoid buying products packaged in Styrofoam, use your consumer buying power and apply pressure on product manufacturers to find a more environmentally-friendly alternative.

—Darlene Maurer, Pastoral Assistant

In the Gospel today, the disciples decide to leave everything to follow Jesus. We are also called to follow Jesus, who tells us that "whatever you do to the least of mine, you do for me." Your gift to the poor can bring the love and peace of Jesus to those who live in fear and doubt, loneliness and dread.

“I DON’T SEE COLORS —I HEAR SOUNDS”

Throughout the United States, the month of February is designated as Black History Month—to reflect on the contributions of African Americans in our country and our lives. I am reminded of a mentor in my life that taught me how the power of music can transcend all barriers of race and religion—African American composer/arranger and actor, Jester Hairston. In the world of choral music, Jester was a pioneer of what is known as the “arranged spiritual”—literally, spirituals arranged for choir. But his life and influence on thousands of singers all over the world was much more than that.

Born in North Carolina at the turn of the 20th century, Jester learned of his ancestry by oral tradition—that is, through stories and song by his grandmother, who was a slave. Later, he would say: “I teach the music just like I heard it from my grandmother...singing right out there in the yard.” Jester graduated Cum Laude in music at Tufts University and later attended Julliard—no small feat for an African-American in the 1920s! Soon after, he became Assistant Conductor of the Hall Johnson Singers, a professional African American choir—and headed off to Hollywood with them. While there, Jester was one of the earliest members of the Screen Actors guild, formed the first integrated Hollywood choir, and spent 20 years conducting and arranging spirituals for films—including his signature song “Amen” for the movie “Lilies of the Field.”

I first met Jester at the age of 12, as he was a close musical colleague of my father. For several years, I worked with Jester as his accompanist for many of my dad’s Choral Festivals. Through his faith, stories, humor, and song, I witnessed firsthand as Jester transformed the minds, hearts and voices of hundreds of high school and college students, teaching us the spirituals he learned as a child. During that time, we didn’t just sing the spirituals—we lived them. For me, and countless others—it was life-changing.

These experiences led me to write my doctoral dissertation about Jester’s life and music—and he became a mentor and friend for many years to come. Our relationship came full circle when Jester was the guest artist of my own Choral Festival at NC Wesleyan College in Rocky Mount, North Carolina. With over 700 high school, college and church choir singers from all faiths, ethnicity and background in the choir, and with his memory beginning to fade (he was 90 at the time), Jester closed this concert as he always did—singing his signature song, “Amen.” It remains one of my most treasured memories.

Born of African diaspora, the spiritual became both a vehicle of faith and hope for the slaves—allowing them to cope, express their Christianity, and even communicate with each other. Singing spirituals were a part of their daily lives—they sang at work and at play, in joy and in sorrow—longing for freedom in this world and the next. Out of the spiritual evolved blues, jazz, gospel and even rock and roll music. It is, without a doubt, one of the most important and distinctly American art forms of the 20th century.

Jester used to say to me; “Li’l Lady—I don’t see colors—I hear sounds.” And that is how he lived his life. Through music, Jester was able to keep the stories and songs of his grandmother alive – and to help make “his” story “our” story. And for that, I will always be grateful. “Amen, Jester...AMEN.”

POPE FRANCIS ANNOUNCES A SYNOD ON SYNODALITY

We invite and encourage your participation

“It is precisely this path of synodality which God expects of the Church of the third millennium. Are we prepared for the adventure of this journey?”

—Pope Francis

Our Holy Father Pope Francis has invited the Catholic Church worldwide to embark on a journey together—Synod on Synodality (formally known as “For a Synodal Church: Communion, Participation, and Mission”). In 2022, through listening and discernment, the entire people of God will be called to contribute to a process by which the Church deepens in understanding its mission and future. We will travel together on a journey of spiritual discernment guided by God’s word and the Holy Spirit. It is a grace-filled event and a process of healing.

What is a Synod?

Formally speaking, a Synod is a meeting of bishops gathered to discuss a topic of theological or pastoral significance, and culminating in a document of advice or counsel to the Pope. A Synod is the mechanism by which the Church begins this important work. However, it is not just a convening of Bishops reflecting on a particular topic and advising the Pope. Rather, a Synod is a journey of discernment in which the people of God are called to pray and reflect upon the Holy Spirit’s will for the Church. Through our listening and sharing, we will seek to understand what the Holy Spirit’s will is for the Church. Pope Francis extends the invitation to the entire Church, and promises to intently listen for understanding and the promptings of the Holy Spirit.

What do we mean by Synodality and what is its purpose?

Simply stated, Synodality is discerning how the Holy Spirit is moving through and with the Body of Christ, so that we may continue fulfilling our mission to evangelize in the world. Pope Francis stated his intent for this particular Synod as a “Time to look others in the eye and listen to what they have to say, to build rapport, to be sensitive to the questions of our sisters and brothers, to let ourselves be enriched by the variety of charisms, vocations, and ministries” (Homily, October 10, 2021). It’s a personal invitation extended to each of us for shaping the future Church.

Three verbs define the path for this Synod—encounter, listen, and discern—and these two questions will lead us in doing that:

- ▶ Are we good at listening?
- ▶ How good is the “hearing” of our heart?

If we approach the Synod with sincerity, we are sure to be amazed by the ways in which the Holy Spirit leads us to fresh paths and new ways of thinking and speaking.

In the spirit of Synodality, Pope Francis has challenged us to “... not soundproof our hearts; let us not remain barricaded in our certainties. Certainties often close us off. Let us listen to one another” (Homily, October 10, 2021).

When will I be invited to participate in this Synod?

As a signal of its importance, Pope Francis launched this two-year global Synod consultation process in October 2021, and it concludes in Rome in October 2023. At the direction of Archbishop Sample and the Synod Steering Committee, we will begin preparations in January 2022.

Here is a preliminary timeline:

Now until...

- ▶ August 15—Prayer Phase.
- ▶ January 20—Virtual workshop for Archdiocesan pastors, pastoral council chairpersons, religious superiors, apostolate directors, and Catholic leaders.
- ▶ February & March—Parish Participation Phase.
- ▶ April & May—Vicariate (regional) Participation Phase.
- ▶ June—Archdiocesan Discernment Phase.
- ▶ July—Preparation of Report and Submission to U. S. Bishops.
- ▶ August 15—Conclusion of Local Participation in the Synod.

How is The Madeleine Parish preparing for this Synod?

Prayer and adoration will form the foundation of the Archdiocese of Portland’s Synod discernment process. Discernment gatherings will take place at three levels: parish, vicariate (regional), and diocesan. As a parish (and throughout the Archdiocese), we will be praying the special Prayer for The Synod on Synodality found on the inside cover of the Breaking Bread books. Copies of the prayer card will also be available for taking home and including in daily devotions.

During the parish phase, pastors, with the help of Pastoral Council members and others, will organize discernment sessions. During this phase, all are invited and encouraged to participate in the Synod.

How will you respond to this important invitation?

Can we count on you to participate in this important work?

“Let us not miss out on the grace-filled opportunities born of encounter, listening, and discernment. In the joyful conviction that, even as we seek the Lord, he always comes with his love to meet us first” (Pope Francis’ Homily, October 10, 2021).

The Liturgical Year

Our Lady of Lourdes

On February 11, 1858, at the grotto of Massabielle in Lourdes, France, Bernadette Soubirous saw a lady dressed in blue and white. She called for repentance and for the construction of a chapel. Bernadette saw more visions of her for several months. Once the lady directed Bernadette to dig into the earth, uncovering a spring of water. Later, she announced her identity in the local dialect: “I am the Immaculate Conception.” By July the visions stopped, but the church built at the grotto became a place of pilgrimage, and Bernadette has been declared a saint.

Pope Pius IX had declared in December

1854 that Mary the mother of Jesus was “the Immaculate Conception”—just three years before the first apparition in Lourdes. According to this dogma, Catholics believe that Mary was conceived without original sin, that God had prepared her by a special miracle from the moment of her conception to become the mother of Jesus. Sinless throughout her life, Mary became a model and intercessor for Christians.

Pilgrimages to Lourdes grew especially popular after sick people reported miraculous cures. Visitors today may prayerfully bathe in the spring that arose during the period of the apparitions.

Believers fill containers with this water for private devotion.

On the liturgical calendar, February 11 is an optional memorial, which means that a local community may choose whether or not to observe Our Lady of Lourdes at the daily Mass. The Collect from The Roman Missal asks God that we may “rise up from our iniquities,” which echoes the lady’s call to repentance. It affirms that God is “protection in our weakness,” which suggests that the sick can find help. And it calls Mary “the Immaculate Mother of God,” a title that blends her own proclamation to Bernadette with the faith of the Church.
